

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVII.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, MARCH 12, 1889.

NO. 9

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—We are glad to note that Louis Cohn, the clothing merchant, whose store was closed some weeks ago on the order of an attachment, has so arranged matters as to resume his business.

—An old negro man stepped into a dry goods store a short time ago and called for a fine shirt. After the clerk had sold him one he remarked he expected to be buried in that shirt, as he was too old to live long. This reminds me of a man I once knew who made his own coffin and placed it under his bed until he should die.

—Since Harrison has taken his seat as President, the negroes are thinking it time that the administration fulfilled its promises made to them before the election, that is, times should be better and they should get higher wages. One in this town at least thinks so. She had been servant in a family for three years and was getting $2.50 a week for her services, but on the day after the inauguration she struck for $4.50 a week and gave as her reason for doing so that wages had gone up since Harrison was president. Of course she did not get the $4.50 a week, and the next thing we hear she will be working for lower wages.

—The Commercial Club held its first monthly meeting last Tuesday night at the court-house. The by-laws that had been framed by a committee, that had been appointed for that purpose, were read and adopted without any change. The question of the new railroad was discussed during the evening with much interest. The club with one voice said we ought to have the road, but just where to tap the L. & N. railroad and the cheapest route was the most difficult thing under consideration. It was left to a committee to ascertain and report at the next meeting. It is more than probable that the county will build and own the road and employ the L. & N. to operate it for them. Won't we be flying when we get the new road, water works, street car line and a half dozen factories?

Mrs. Frank Leslie is a staunch advocate of marriage and the decolette dress. When asked that all-absorbing question, "Is marriage a failure?" she replied warmly: "No, indeed! I would advise every girl to marry, even if she is to be disappointed and disillusioned. In that case, the discipline will be invaluable. It will develop her and make her a better, nobler woman. She will learn that most sublime lesson of patience. And if she finds her ideal, why, a pretty, ecstatic gesture finished the sentence.

"You favor decolette dresses, do you not?"

"Yes, I agree with the French; there should be a distinction between evening and morning dress. It would in European circles be considered as ill-bred to enter a drawing-room at night in a high-necked gown as in a wrapper. Every woman who has a pretty neck and shoulders will display them, and the crusade against decolette dress might as well cease."

DANVILLE.—Anderson & Boyle sold to E. H. Myer their farm of 100 acres on the Perryville pike for $2,000. I. M. Dunn has purchased J. M. Myer's interest in the grocery house of Welsh & Myer. Mr. Myer will go to Texas to live. Judge Morrow refused to require Judge Lee to order a school tax election in the Junction City precinct. The matter has created much ill feeling between the advocates and opposers of the tax. G. B. Woodcock bought 500 lambs at 5 to 5½ for June delivery. M. L. Beard, who bought the Jack, Col. Stigall, of George Tarkington for $950, sold him in less than a week to Gen. Gentry, of Missouri, for $1,150.—Advocate.

CURE FOR INSOMNIA.—Recently there came to work in a Brookfield, Ct., family a Swedish woman, who, hearing of a young woman troubled from insomnia, told her of the practice of the people of her country who are similarly afflicted. It was to take a napkin, dip it in ice-cold water, wring it slightly and lay it across her eyes. The plan was followed and it worked like a charm. The first night the girl slept four hours without awakening, something she had not done for several months. At the end of that time the napkin had become dry. By wetting it again she at once went to sleep and it required considerable force to arouse her in the morning.—N. Y. Sun.

Mr. W. P. Walton, editor of the Stanford Interior Journal, is hereby declared a veteran of the Kentucky Press Association. Last Friday he completed the 14th year of his service as a Kentucky editor, and it is a painful commentary upon the rapidity of newspaper changes that there are not living in the State a dozen men who were engaged in journalism when he took it up.—Frankfort Capital.

During the civil war 267 Union soldiers were executed by their comrades for desertion and other causes. All executions had to be approved by the department commander, and usually by the president or secretary of war.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Transylvania Presbytery meets here April 16.

—Rev. Dr. T. T. Eaton will dedicate the new Baptist church at Maysville in April.

—Two colored men officiated as pallbearers at the funeral of Rev. Thomas B. Clarkson, a prominent Episcopal minister of Columbia, S. C.

—Rev. George Hunt, of Lexington, who preached the dedicatory sermon of the old Baptist church here about 33 years ago, visited here again last Sunday and preached both morning and night at the Baptist church. He has been identified with educational affairs all his life and for 16 years held positions in the Georgetown, Russellville and other colleges. For this reason his friends are urging him to become a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, but he has not decided to do so yet. He would bring much experience and ability to the office if the State should honor him.

Cattle on the Ocean.

In heavy weather, when the vessel is rolling and pitching, the bellowing of the frightened cattle often rises above the roar of the storm. Many of them become seasick, fall down and are trampled upon by the remaining cattle in the pen. As soon as there is a dead steer in one of the pens it is absolutely necessary to get him overboard. Sailors often have difficult tasks to perform, but when it comes to sending one of their number into a pen to bend on the end of a hoist to a dead steer's leg, and to do this in the midst of a frightened bunch of frightened Texas steers, Jack often makes a bad mess of it.

Not infrequently the steers break down some of the pens by their shifting about between the rails and affect seriously the vessel's trim. It is this happens in a heavy storm it will likely place the ship in imminent danger. There is only one remedy and that is to get the steers overboard. A bunch of them are shut off as closely as possible the ports knocked down, and as the vessels give a heavy roll, they are fairly pushed over into the seething waters. A big 6-inch hawser throws them off as if they were so many flies. The ports are closed, and as one glances back over the waves the cattle can be seen struggling desperately to keep themselves up. The big steamer plows on her way, and perhaps in an hour or so, if there is no more trouble in the trimming of the vessel, consigns another dozen or fifteen steers to the ocean.

THE USUAL REWARD.—We understand that Arizona Joe, Col. Hilton, Dick Fenshaw and other ingrates are going about with the statement that we were horse-whipped by the Widow Barnham one day last week. When we refer to those hyenas as living liars we do so in all gentleness. We can't afford to get mad and kick such freaks of nature. Arizona Joe is wearing a collar we lent him from our slim stock, and if anyone will rip the Colonel's coat down the back he will find one of our undershirts surrounding the ingrate's body. When Dick Fenshaw struck this town he hadn't eaten anything but pig-weed for three days and he was trying to make a pack of cards cover his nakedness. We filled his stomach, gave him a coat and lifted him out of the slough. This is our reward. Sick transit! Sick gratitude! Sick hyena.—Kicker.

New Hampshire votes to-day on a prohibitory amendment to her constitution. The result is awaited with much interest, because Rhode Island and Massachusetts have lately exhibited a determination to abandon prohibition for license.

Patrick McMahon, fireman, was blown to pieces, Neil Brown was instantly killed and Fred Fishback was seriously scalded by the explosion of a boiler in the Victoria Flouring mill, St. Louis, early Sunday morning.

Mrs. Sarah P. Leland, of New York, a niece of the late Chief Justice Chase, was committed for trial for the larceny of diamonds valued at $5,000 from Miss Elizabeth Daily.

Harrison announces that he will fill Territorial offices with residents of the Territory, and that he will not consider applications from other persons.

Hardly a day passes that some husband doesn't kill his wife and then himself. Joseph Russell, at Auburn, N. Y., was Sunday's operator.

There are over 50 presidential post-offices which will become vacant during March and April. Wamaker will begin on these.

During the 50th Congress nearly $10,000,000 were appropriated for the construction and improvement of public buildings.

The rich gold finds in Lower California has created great excitement and the days of '49 are being enacted over again.

A band of robbers tore up the track of a Russian railroad and 50 people were killed and as many wounded.

A party of five French tourists were murdered and robbed in Yellowstone Park.

—James V. Leathers, of Anderson county, "takes the cake" on the lamb question, as he has 60 ewes and from them 125 lambs. W. S. and Nat L. Vandersall bought in Hardin a nice bunch of 20 mules at $60 to $65. They sold 10 mules to Gosnell & Kennedy, of Tennessee, at $71 per head; same party bought of Curry & Rue 19 mules at $69 per head.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

—All the members of the Christian Aid Society are asked to be present next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Christian church, for a special meeting. All the brethren of the church are solicited to be present.

—We hear that it is certainly true that the long noted engine house is to be removed from its abiding spot, to the more desirable corner where the store-room purchased from T. G. Stevens now stands and if the citizens can be interested enough to bore for an artesian well upon the grounds of the engine house and have a fountain there it would indeed be a presentable and inviting place for visitors. Now hold up your heads ye citizens for we may boom yet.

Says It's a Lie.

[To the Editor of the Interior Journal.]—The item in your paper about my having been whipped by two of the Toledo grocery men, is a lie out of the whole cloth. There is not a word of truth in it. No such thing happened and your informant must have been prompted by the basest malice in giving the report to you. J. MATT PHILLIPS.

Some of the religious denominations permit dancing, others wink at it; but its most deadly enemies are the Baptists. Their intense hatred grew out of the fact that many years ago Miss Annie Rives Herod disported herself to the lascivious notes of the tom tom, which so pleased her uncle that he told her if she wanted anything she did not see to ask for it, which caused John, the leading Baptist of that day, to lose his head.—Hawesville Plain Dealer.

A unique chair, made of the horns of Texas cattle, is on its way from San Antonio to the White House. It is the gift of a San Antonio banker to President Harrison, and cost its donor $1,500. The horns are riveted with gold and there are a number of gold plates used in its construction. From one of them glitters a very handsome diamond.

A number of buildings, including the Courier, were burned at Princeton. —Thomas O'Brien, while stealing a ride on a freight train, fell under the wheels near Paducah and was killed.

—George C. Tichenor, of Illinois, has been chosen by Secretary Windom as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in place of Judge Maynard, resigned.

STANFORD AND LINCOLN COUNTY.

Stanford, the county seat of Lincoln county is situated on the Knoxville Division of the Louisville and Nashville R. R., 103 miles from Louisville and is the terminus of the Kentucky Central, 128 miles from Cincinnati. It has a population of about 2,500, in addition to a railroad suburb of 500, where the L. & N. has its engine house and repair shops. The surrounding country is rich and beautiful, its hills and valleys being covered with a luxuriant growth of blue-grass. A flourishing female college, a good male seminary, a well kept public school, all in their own buildings, furnish excellent school facilities. It has two National Banks, with a combined capital of $400,000; a flourishing flour mill, a planing mill, seven churches, a large new opera house, three hotels, seven grocery and five dry goods stores, two clothing stores, two furniture and undertakers' stores, saddlery and sundry other smaller establishments. The need of the town is manufactures, nearly any kind of which would flourish, especially a furniture factory, its railroad facilities and its convenience to excellent lumber being unsurpassed. Many more dwelling houses are needed and the opening up of the Miller Extension gives plenty of lots for their erection.

Lincoln is one of the oldest as it is one of the best counties in the State. A good portion of its land is the famous blue-grass; the rest is high timbered land, which on being cleared and cultivated yields a good return of any kind of crop. It is especially adapted to fruit growing and grape culture and the German and Swiss Colonies, to the number of several hundred persons, are making this portion of the county bloom with beauty. The population of Lincoln is fully 20,000 and it is being constantly increased by immigration and by others seeking homes at once desirable and cheap. Two railroads, the Cincinnati Southern and the Louisville and Nashville, traverse the county from North to South and from East to West, while the Kentucky Central and the Green River railroads run each a number of miles to their termini in the county. There are numerous minerals to be found in the county and oil which has been struck in the southwestern portion of the county is supposed to exist in paying quantities. The area of the county is 85,494 acres and the assessed value of its property $5,000,000.

In addition to the county seat there are in the county the following thriving towns: Hustonville, McKinney, Millersville, Waynesburg, Kingsville, Rowland, Crab Orchard, Ottenheim and Highland.

W. P. WALTON.

THE Mason-Foard Co., composed of Col. C. E. Hoge, H. P. Mason, S. D. Gooch, W. F. Dandridge, S. B. Mason, John King, Jo F. Foard, Wm. Morrow and Wm. Duncan, have leased the Kentucky Penitentiary again for four years from April 1, with the privilege of eight years if they so desire. The Argus pays the lessees the following high compliment: "Every one of the gentlemen are first-class business men, and the corporation is one of the most substantial in the State. They are prompt in filling every contract entered into, and are polite and accommodating to every one with whom they come in contact, either socially or in a business matter. These gentlemen have never had any issue with the State. They have paid their rental promptly as their contract provided and have done more than any other firm or corporation to develop the resources of Kentucky." This firm also has the contract for completing the Eddyville prison by the end of the year, for which it is to be paid $200,000. When it is completed the law contemplates that all the convicts shall be worked inside prison walls. The Mason-Foard Co. has also leased it on a 10-year contract. A personal acquaintance with most of the gentlemen of the firm warrants us in endorsing everything the Argus says about them and in congratulating the State upon being able to contract with so reliable a firm to take charge of her convicts.

CAPT. H. B. JENKS, not he of the Horse Marines, but the capable ex-chief clerk of the 5th Railway Mail Division, who stepped down and out to make room for a democratic patriot, is on deck again and likely to resume his old place or get something better in the mail service. The captain is a very offensive partisan, but is a good man all the same and business all over. During the ten years that we have had occasional need to call on him for an improvement or a change in the manner of handling our papers, we have always found him kind and obliging and ready to adopt any suggestion that he was satisfied would aid us and our patrons. We think a good deal of the clever old captain.

An error crept into our last issue to the effect that there was but one millionaire in Harrison's Cabinet. The Louisville Times has been figuring and finds as follows: "The present administration is a rich man's affair. The combined wealth of the President, Vice-President and Cabinet is estimated at $27,560,000. These are the gentry who will take care of the labor of the country. Wall street is represented by Morton with $10,000,000 and Windom with $10,000,000. The sewing women of the Union are represented by Vanamaker with $10,000,000. The honest people of the nation are represented by Blaine with $1,000,000. The plutocrats are in the saddle."

THE Richmond Register, one of the best and most reliable papers in the State, has just celebrated its 24th birthday. Editor F. M. Green, who is still unmarried, would not admit, of course, if it were true, that he started the paper, but he has been there a long time all the same and like ourselves has grown gray in the cause. He is admirably assisted in his duties by Mr. Clarence E. Woods, a young man of decided journalistic talents.

COL. McCARTY, of the Jessamine Journal, who can carry all his cash in a small part of his capacious breeches pocket, and is therefore not up to the requirements of us millionaires who run semi-weeklies, is disposed to be facetious at the expense of our mutual friend, the Danville Advocate, which recently spoke of the robbery of its safe. He asks "What's the use of a safe in a country office, anyhow? Why not keep your apples in the cellar?"

GEN. GREEN CLAY SMITH is what you might call a jack at all trades to be sure. Lawyer, preacher, politician, prohibitionist, lecturer and perhaps other professions claim his attention, but we had never heard that he was a cobbler till a Mt. Sterling paper told of his going into a shoemaker's shop there and making a pair of shoes from out to finish. Verily versatility vegetates vigorously in this specimen of Green Clay.

LIKE a great many other people the Ohio farmers are living beyond their means. The total assessed value of agricultural lands in the State is but $720,300,000, yet the report of the Commissioner of Labor places the farm mortgage indebtedness at $375,000,000.

THE nearest that Kentucky comes to recognition in the cabinet is that Gen. Tracy owns Kentucky Wilkes. It has been stated that Kentucky's first citizen is a stud horse and as no republican can be classed with the first citizens it is perhaps just as well as it is.

SUBMITTING to the inevitable First Controller M. J. Durham tendered his resignation to Secretary Windom to take effect at his convenience. The secretary complimented the judge as an officer and told him to hold on till he had a conference with him.

The question "What shall we do with our ex-presidents?" has often been discussed and many have been the suggestions in the premises. Grover Cleveland has settled the matter, so far as he is concerned, by showing the world that he can take care of himself. He is not disposed to spend his time in idleness or to go junketing around the world to be feted and smiled upon by the powers of other countries. On the third day after retiring from the Presidency of the United States, having already arranged a partnership with a legal firm in New York, he reported at the office for business, hung his coat and hat on the nail behind the door and buckled himself down to work. No ordinary man in any sense is our Grover. All honor to him.

THE attention of the democratic county committee is called to the fact that a member of the Legislature is to be elected this year and that some steps should be taken in the matter. Because there are no persons announcing themselves "subject to the action of the democracy" is no reason that we should not have a clear-cut nomination and the situation is much better for selecting an acceptable man than if a number of short horses had entered the race. A good democrat with a clean record, both as to politics and sobriety, can be elected with ease. It is time Lincoln had ceased to send men to legislate for her, who are not only incompetent to do so, but absolutely a disgrace to her fair name.

THE prospectus of another paper to be started at Mt. Sterling has been received. It is to be called the News and edited by Thomas H. Fox & Co. Mr. Fox is a brother of Hon. F. T. Fox, the prohibition apostle, but unlike him has never strayed off after other gods. He takes his politics like his whisky, straight, and proposes to run a genuine democratic paper. While we shall welcome Mr. Fox into the fold, we cannot expect for him the success we would wish. Mt. Sterling cannot support three papers and the new one will have to do double hustling if it gets away with the two that are established.

THE Ohio republicans as usual want the earth. Mr. Harrison has been served with the notice that she expects the following bureau positions: First Assistant Postmaster General, Commissioner of Pensions, Sixth Auditor of the Treasury, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, one of the three Comptrollerships of the Treasury, the Comptroller of the Currency or First Comptroller, several other minor department offices and everything else she can get. Flanagan, of Texas, has many devoted admirers in the Buckeye State.

THE manager of the Lexington Opera House, one Charles Scott, made a brutal assault on S. J. Roberts, editor of the Leader. He attacked him from behind, dealing him a blow on the head that sent him to the sidewalk and followed this up with several other blows with a stick. The cause of the attack was a criticism of the way the Opera House was managed. Scott was arrested and held in $500 bond and should be severely dealt with for his cowardly action.

SPONSORERS should bear in mind that President Harrison said in his address: "Persistent importunity will not be the best support of an applicant for office," and go slow. Rome was not built in a day, neither can all the offices of this great country be changed in a twinkling. So possess your anxious souls with patience, ye who thirst after pap and "if ye can't be patient be as patient as ye can."

THE Elizabethtown News has discarded the old blanket sheet and doubled up into a six column quarto. The improvement is marked and in its present shape Bro. Sommers will be able to give the advertising agents more "top of columns next to reading matter" than formerly. The News has recently added an engine to its outfit and seems to be on the wave to deserved prosperity generally.

HERE it is more than a week after the inauguration and but few of the democratic office holders have been fired. It is too bad indeed. The hungry horde is in consequence putting on a still hungrier look and sighing for the time of re-joining to come, spoken of in Isaiah 9:3.

LOUISVILLE is preparing to pipe natural gas from some point in Indiana and the legislature passed an act authorizing the work of laying the pipes for the purpose. Gov. Hovey vetoed it, but it didn't take the body four minutes to pass it over his objections.

THE Covington Commonwealth denies that it is trying to convict Auditor Hewitt of gross disregard of official duties in his settlements with Tate. His own testimony, which that paper alone has published, does that, it thinks, sufficiently itself.

THE Mexican Mission is a considerably falling off from a cabinet position, but that is now the ambition of our worthy Gen. Bradley, who will more than likely get there. We hope so at any rate.

THE Owensboro Inquirer is showing considerable enterprise in issuing two editions daily. The papers of that growing city certainly do it great credit.

IT is stated with a degree of positiveness that Hummy Willson is to be appointed district attorney of Kentucky. What's the matter with the Leather-lunged Denny, who got himself on the notification committee and has once or twice since reminded Harrison that he was one of the boys who went to tell him he was nominated at Chicago? Seriously, we should like to see Denny get it. He made a good Commonwealth's attorney and established himself as a terror to evil-doers, because he had the courage and the backbone to stand up for the power of the law. Since a republican holds the office, the law-abiding of this judicial district would be glad if he were again in charge of the Commonwealth's interests.

THE kid glove president finds himself too good to shake the honest hands of the common people, so he now plants himself on a prominent position and lets the vulgar herd pass by and satisfy itself with a simple look at his aristocratic person. Mr. Cleveland never failed to shake the hand of every man, woman and child who presented himself to do so, but then there is a vast difference between an honest democrat and a Plutocratic republican. The president will not help himself or his party by his exclusiveness.

A COON is to be appointed assistant secretary of the national treasury in the place of Col. Thompson, a white democrat. Don't prick up your ears with delight, ye deluded colored republicans. The Coon referred to is not a negro, but a rich New York banker. It will be colder even than it has been since ground-hog day, when a negro gets anything from this administration that is worth having.

AN election bill resembling closely the Australian methods of voting has become a law in Indiana. It makes the ballot absolutely secret and takes away entirely the occupation of strikers and blocks-of-five manipulators. Should the Senate pass the stringent bill against bribery the days of republican methods and Dudley rascality are numbered.

THE announcement of Mr. M. F. Brinkley as a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals appears in this issue. He is a man of much ability, and as to his democracy there have never been any flies on it. He has a large acquaintance and in the mountains especially has an extensive following.

Isaac V. Williamson, of Philadelphia, is dead, at the ripe age of 87 years. He lived long enough to make his name forever memorable in the $2,500,000 endowment of his mechanical school for boys; but it is a pity he could not have lived long enough to see it in operation.

John Ericson is dead. He built the first naval boat that carried her machinery under her water line, out of the reach of hostile shot and dictated reconstruction to the fleets of the world. In 1861 Ericson built the Monitor, completing her in 100 days from the laying of the keel plate. She arrived in Hampton Roads just in time to defeat in March, 1862, the Confederate ironclad Merrimack, which had destroyed the frigates Congress and Cumberland, and was about to sink or disperse the rest of the Government's wood fleet.

A disgusted republican patriot, said at Washington: "You may put it down as certain that we shall lose New York, Ohio, Indiana, Connecticut and every other close State at this fall's election, as the result of Harrison's failure to recognize his friends. He has chilled the marrow of the party, when it was just getting thawed out. He has thrown away two cabinet places with which he might have performed great party service, and misplaced another. Blaine was enough from New England and Proctor is geographically out of place, not to mention the fact that he is put in the cabinet by Edmunds and to please the mugwumps."

MISS ANNIE WRAY left for Bloomington, Ill., yesterday and there were many tears shed by friends who went to bid her good-bye.

MR. WARREN ALLEN, a handsome young Harrodsburg beau, who seems to be smitten with one of our pretty girls, was up again Sunday. Miss Minnie Van Avelde returned home with him.

MISS PATSY COCHRAN, of Missouri, who is visiting Miss Mary Newland, returns home this week, and if the young men don't talk fast there will be some broken hearts left behind.

DR. HAWKINS BROWN brought down pretty Misses Anna Reid and Lou Hocker to the show Thursday night. The clever old pill maker must have thought it was a minstrel entertainment.

THE Pineville Messenger says that M. F. North, the gentleman who recently bought property in the West End of this county, will continue to practice law in Bell and will also hang out his shingle at Hustonville.

DR. FAYTON has sold the house and lot bought of Mrs. Smith Irwin to James T. Craig at the price he gave for it and Mr. and Mrs. Craig will go to housekeeping, the great desire of most young wives, at once.

MR. A. B. OWENS, who recently went to Lily to engage in business, is back and says that the country up there is too much for his blood. He is therefore content to die where he has nearly always lived—in Lincoln.

CAPT. SMITH IRWIN, who has a legion of friends here, was up from Paducah, where he has a good position on the C. & O., a few days last week. The captain was a citizen of this place for five years and his recent removal has been the occasion of much regret. He is an excellent gentleman, to whom the people of this community owe much for the wonderful improvement he made at Rowland, while in charge there, changing it from a very disorderly to a very decent place. Mrs. Irwin, his good wife, left for her new home yesterday.

MR. J. R. WARREN was reported no better yesterday.

ED JONES is book keeping in the First National Bank.

WALLACE WITHERS has taken a position as salesman for B. K. Wearers.

WHILE Mrs. S. J. Embury was attending the matinee Saturday afternoon, the reins were stolen off her horse hitched in front of the Opera House. This is about a bold piece of theft as we can recall.

FIRE broke out in the Anderson Hotel Barbourville, Saturday, destroying it and the entire block. The flames were also communicated to the Gibson House across the street and that too burned. The loss is estimated at $10,000.

THE spring term of the Lincoln Circuit Court, will begin March 25th, and Friday will be the last day for filing suits. The term promises to be dull and unprofitable as there are no important suits either criminal or civil, likely to be tried.

THE negroes, Bill King, Will Mason, Charlie Rogers, Ike Logan and Walter Gentry, who attempted to steal a ride to Rowland on a passenger train, were fined $5 apiece before Judge Carson Friday. Most of them will work out their fines on the rock pile.

THE goods belonging to the new firm of A. Urbansky & Co., who have rented the store-room recently vacated by Mr. D. Klass, are beginning to arrive. Due notice of their opening will be given, as Mr. Sallinger, who will have charge of the store, believes in printer's ink and will use it freely.

THE Cara Pryor Co., which came to us without flourish of trumpets, proved a very pleasing attraction, which steadily grew in favor, the last night's receipts being not very far from double the first. Miss Pryor is a splendid little actress, a charming vocalist and a most graceful dancer. She made very many friends here by her obliging nature, shown in responding readily to requests for favorite songs. Her support is good, the accomplished character actor, Mr. L. D. Blonddell, and the leading man, Mr. Lou Gosson, being especially praiseworthy. The music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Huffman on the piano and cornet and judging from the applause it was highly appreciated. After playing Harrodsburg, Somerset and Lebanon the company will return North and has promised to play here again Wednesday night, 20th, when a new and laughable comedy and a side-splitting negro farce will be given.

SEE the width and quality of the black Henrietta cloth we are now closing out at 57 1/2 cents. Buy now and save money. S. L. Powers & Co.

NUMEROUS changes will be noted in the K. C. time card, but they do not affect the train that runs from here, either in arriving or departing.

THE Jones Bros., of S. L. Powers & Co. will open a grocery store in the room adjoining T. R. Walton's establishment on the 18th of this month.

THE trucks of a freight car pulled out yesterday morning as the train was leaving Hanging Fork bridge and let it down to the track. No serious damage was done and no trains save the local freights delayed.

A DISPATCH from Washington says that A. M. Swope will be Commissioner of Internal Revenue or Governor of Utah; Gen. W. J. Landrum, pension agent; George Denny, Jr., solicitor general of Montana; and Wood Dunlap, revenue agent.

E. A. EARL, said to be a good photographer, has opened the McRoberts gallery and is ready to wait on those who wish their features preserved for "future reference," or for the benefit of their friends.

IN Judge Varnon's quarterly court yesterday Miss Malinda Papples, who sued her brother for a mare which she claimed he took from a boy who was riding her, because she hadn't paid him, secured a verdict in her favor. There are but few contested cases on the docket of this court.

AFTER several days of regular March weather, during which it snowed, blowed and rained, we were treated to sunshine and brightness yesterday. A number of city gardeners have planted peas and potatoes, but it is more than probable that those who wait till the middle of April to do so will fare just as well.

Two youths, Hobbs and Horton, from the Preachersville neighborhood, came to Rowland a few nights ago and proceeded to take the town by disturbing religious worship and obstructing the highway by putting a wagon across the pike. They were promptly arrested by Marshal Payne and taken before Judge Shelton, who fined them $10 each and costs.

DEATH.—Elder Harrison Givens, pastor of the colored Christian church here and a man of considerable natural ability, died Sunday night of asthma and dropsy. He was one of the large family raised by the late Fleming Lee, all of whom have made very deserving citizens since their emancipation. Harrison was a preacher for a number of years and had the reputation of being a fair speaker and an earnest christian.

COMPLETE lines of dry goods, notions, groceries, boots, shoes, &c., tinware, queensware, glassware, stoneware, hardware, cooking and heating stoves, furniture of all kinds. Having an experienced buyer constantly in the market I am prepared to give you bottom figures. Hilton sells 13 pounds, 1 oz. granulated sugar for $1. It may seem a little odd, but I have the sugar. Farmers, I will buy your bacon. W. S. Hilton, Junction City.

DENIES IT.—Mrs. Alice Phillips and Miss Annie Phillips, the daughter-in-law and daughter of Mr. Mat Phillips, called in a few days ago to deny the report that the Toledo salesman, who recently duped so many of our granger friends into buying groceries at much higher prices than our merchants sell them, dressed the old gentleman down with a buggy whip because he refused to accept the goods he had ordered. The report came to us from authentic source and was repeatedly corroborated, but if Mr. Phillips says it is not true we will not dogmatize. He certainly ought to know if anybody does and the ladies state positively he bore no evidence of blows on his person.

IN the case of A. M. Feland vs. J. M. White and others, tried at the recent term of the Boyle Circuit Court by change of venue from Lincoln, the court on the last day of the term set aside the judgment of Mr. Feland for $100 and granted a new trial. Mr. Feland was dissatisfied with the small amount of the damages awarded him and on this ground only moved for a new trial which was overruled. Afterwards, however, the defendants withdrew all objection to a new trial, and all parties being willing the court reconsidered the matter and a new trial was granted. The verdict returned by the jury was, as we are informed by an attorney, the result of a compromise among the jurors, the first vote showing the whole for Feland, one of whom was for awarding him one cent, one $200 and the remainder sums ranging from $800 to $2,300—two of the jury being for the last named sum. To have added the sums together and divided by 12, so as to make an average amount, would have given Feland a verdict for about $1,500. But the one cent man stood firm and to make a verdict the majority finally came to his highest figures, $100.

PRIZE OFFER.

EVANSVILLE IND., Mar. 1, 1889.

To BRUCE & McROBERTS, Stanford, Ky.—
GENTLEMEN:—In offering the "Bull Dog" Jeans breeches for sale do not forget the superior quality of the goods. Remember the SEWING, POCKETS, BUCKLE, BUTTONS, &c. They wear comfortably, for the trying on of a pair of our pants is a sure sale every time. Besides, you are AUTHORIZED to WARRANT every seam until the cloth wears out, and as a CONVINCE, at OUR RISK, make the STANDING offer of a pair of the pants FREE GRATIS to any one person who may succeed in ripping the CROTCH in a fair, steady pull of any one pair of them. Make your customers try it, for no two men can tear them, and you will find it a most practicable way of advertising.
Yours truly
HARRISON & HARRISON.
